

Welcome Conversations at Audition

1. To Musicians in the Warmup Room at the End of Each Round:

Hello, I'm (your name), and I'm here as a representative of Local (number) which represents the musicians of the Gotham Symphony. I hope your audition experience here has been a good one. During this audition, you've been working under our contract, as the procedures today have been negotiated between the musicians and the Symphony. We'd like to have your feedback on anything that could be improved upon, or anything that went particularly well. Any information will be held in confidence and will not affect the audition process. You could talk to me now, or I have contact information if you'd like to contact me afterward. Welcome once again, and good luck!

2. To Winner(s) After Audition:

Congratulations, (name)! Once again, I'm (your name), the representative of Local (number) which represents the musicians of the Gotham Symphony. I have some information on why the musicians of this orchestra have joined together in union, and what we do to improve our conditions together in this packet. It contains a copy of our current contract, and information on how to join us. Please don't hesitate to contact me if you have any questions about the contract, any of the other information included, or anything in general about the Symphony. My contact information is included. Welcome to our orchestra!
