

Rocky Jones

Rocky Jones is a writer, musician, and video artist based in St. Paul, Minnesota, who has spent his life and career committed to the idea that art and art-making can serve as catalysts for a more just world. A native of Washington, DC, he is also an experienced marketing and communications professional with nearly 20 years of experience in industries as varied as retail, design, and non-profit arts administration. Currently, he is the Director of Equity, Diversity and Inclusion at Minnesota Opera, where he previously served as Communications Manager for several years.

